

25 Ways to Say 'Good Job'

All teachers need to praise their students often. It's particularly important at the elementary level, and a good thing for practice teachers to start doing.

Below is a list of different ways to say 'good job'. I keep a card with a list like this in my desk, and refer to it once in a while. Use the ones that work for you. Add your own.

Wow! Good work.

That's great.

I like the way you're working.

Awesome job.

Keep it up.

What neat work.

Terrific.

Fabulous.

Thank you for _____

Now that's creative!

It looks like you put a lot of work into this.

Good thinking.

You're good at this.

Super!

That is certainly one way of looking at it.

Impressive!

I'm proud of you.

You've got it now.

Nice going.

You make it look easy.

Great job.

Fantastic!

Awesome!

You really outdid yourself today.

That's really nice.
